TO RESOLUTION

Vetoes Measure to Compel Chartered Clubs to Pay Liquor License.

TAKES PAINS TO TELL WHY

SAYS ACTION WAS AIMED AT THE COMMERCIAL CLUB.

Mayor John S. Bransford has vetoed the resolution calling upon all chartered clubs to pay a liquor license to the city. The mayor takes it that this resolution was aimed directly at the Commercial club, and has the following to say when re-turning the resolution without his ap-and has the following to say when returning the resolution without his approval:

"I return herewith, without my approval, resolution No. 15, introduced by Councilman F. S. Fernstrom, and adopted by your honorable body at your regular meeting Feb. 8, 1999, which was referred to me for any action, approving or otherwise, that I might deem fit to exercise. The reasons for my withholding my approval are as follows:

"The resolution as originally introduced was fatended to be operative mainly against the Commercial club, an organization composed almost entirely of the best citizenship of the city, and whose object it is to advance by every legitimate means the material and moral progress of the city. In the accomplishment of this high aim it has made known to every class of citizen of the country the advantages of our city as a place where the business man and the man with capital might safely invest their money, as also its desirability as a place of resigence for the man desiring to have a home where he can reasonably be assured of obtaining employment and the very best educational institutions. How well it has fulfilled its purpose its works will prove.

"The resolution contains the misrepresentation of the facts as regards the attitude of the Commercial Club's Buffet.

Yesterday afternoon's session of Judge Bowman's court was a near-record, less than fifteen minutes being required to clear the docket. Fred Swan and San Jackson, arrested for the violation of the speed ordinance, forfeited their bail of £ cach and it took but a minute or two for Robert Lutcher to secure his freedom from a charge of drunkenness. The charge that "Jane Doe" McGuer had refused to pay a street car fare was dismissed. The crusade of Councilman George Ray-tould, Oliver Hobson and J. H. ## MAYOR SAYS"NO" OGDEN SYNDICATE PLANS BIG WHOLESALE AND COMMISSION DISTRICT ON THE WEST SIDE

Plans for a big wholesale and commission district on the west side, the establishment of which will call for the immediate expenditure of nearly $50,000 in improvements, were laid before the committees of the city council last evening. A syndicate of Ogden capitalists is behind the scheme, which involves the rouning of a new street east and west through the block bounded by Second and Third West. Stores are to be erected along one side, to be occupied by commission houses, and in the street itself accommodations are to be provided for the farmers with their produce and for hucksters' wagons.

The property Mr. Yowell stated, cost $15,000, and the buildings to be created are figured at $8,000. Besides this there to be provided for the farmers with their produce and for hucksters' wagons.

The property Mr. Yowell stated, cost to have open glass fronts and wide swinging doors thing and though this is a matter for conding of a new street east and west through the block will be the laying of the cement, estimated to cost $15,000.

Behind the stores and rouning through the block will be completed. The commission men, from the first, insisted on a place for these in the district, and the produce and for hucksters' wagons.

The punction City men behind the undertaking are David Eccles, M. S. Browning and Judge H. H. Rolapp. They already have the property and will begin to build when they receive certain assurances from the city.

They were represented before the committees last evening by Everett P. Yowell and James Johnson, who showed the councilment the plans for the new district.
